RESEARCH PROFILE

I investigate the governance mechanisms of online platforms, examining how their design, technical affordances, and policies shape the user experience. My work informs how platforms, moderators, policymakers, and end-users themselves can mitigate online harms such as identity-based discrimination, online harassment, and the rise of hate groups. Deploying a mixed-methods approach, my research reframes content moderation as a sociotechnical design space that must be theoretically informed, empirically grounded, procedurally accountable, and empowering for end-users.

Research Interests: Social Computing, Human-Centered Design, Media & Society, Human-Computer Interaction, Platform Governance, Content Moderation, Online Harassment, Fair and Transparent AI

EDUCATION

Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, GA USA
Ph.D., Computer Science Aug 2015 – May 2020
Dissertation: Identifying Opportunities to Improve Content Moderation
Advisors: Amy Bruckman and Eric Gilbert
Committee: Scott Counts, Neha Kumar, Keith Edwards

University of Texas at Dallas, Richardson, TX USA
M.S., Computer Science Aug 2012 – Dec 2014
Thesis: Large Scale Data Mining with Applications in Social Computing
Advisor: Latifur Khan

Indian Institute of Technology Bombay, Mumbai, India
B.Tech., Electrical Engineering Aug 2006 – May 2010

EMPLOYMENT

|---|---|
| Fall 2021 – Now | Assistant Professor, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University |
| Spring 2021 | Research Advisor, Twitch, Seattle, WA (USA) |
| 2020 – 2021 | Postdoctoral Scholar, Paul G. Allen School of Computer Science & Engineering, University of Washington |
| 2020 – 2021 | Affiliate, Berkman Klein Center for Internet & Society, Harvard University |
| Summer 2020 | Research Intern, Max Planck Institute for Software Systems, Saarbrücken, Germany |
| Summer 2018 | Research Intern, Microsoft Research, Redmond, WA (USA) |
| Summer 2017 | Research Intern, Airbnb, San Francisco, CA (USA) |
| Mar – Jul 2015 | Software Developer, Amazon, Seattle, WA (USA) |
| Summer 2013 | Research Intern, Brown University, Providence, RI (USA) |
| 2011 – 2012 | Software Developer, Future Group, Mumbai, India |
| Summer 2009 | Research Intern, INRIA Research Center, Paris-Rocquencourt, France |

GRANTS

- "Understanding Advice-seeking Practices of People in Inter-caste Relationships on Reddit"
  Rutgers SC&I Grant for Individual Faculty Research (GIFR) (2025)
  Role: PI
  Amount: $4,500

- "Toward Decent Communication and Fair Work Among Digital Pieceworkers"
  Rutgers SC&I Grant for Team-Based Faculty Research (GTFR) (2024)
  Role: Co-PI, PI: Sophia Fu
  Amount: $25,000

- "Incorporating Procedural Fairness in Flagging Mechanisms on Social Media Sites"
  National Science Foundation (NSF) IIS - HCC-Human-Centered Computing Unit:Small (2023)
  Role: PI
  Amount: $581,680
  Award Link
  (Note: This project concluded early on April 18, 2025, due to NSF program's realignment of priorities.)

- "Rutgers Computational Social Science Lab"
  Rutgers SC&I Grant for Team-Based Faculty Research (GTFR) (2023)
  Role: Co-PI, PI: Katherine Ognyanova
  Amount: $14,000

- "Effects of Warning and Information Labels on Attraction to Offensive Online Communities"
  Rutgers SC&I Grant for Individual Faculty Research (GIFR) (2023)
  Role: PI
  Amount: $4,000

- "Pathways to Online Radicalization: Designing Sociotechnical Solutions to Address Online Masculine Toxicity & Radicalization"
  Rutgers SC&I Scholarly Futures Award (2022)
  Role: PI, Co-PI: Kiran Garimella and Tawfiq Ammari
  Amount: $4,000

- "Examining User Trajectory in the Aftermath of Community Bans"
  Rutgers SC&I Grant for Individual Faculty Research (GIFR) (2022)
  Role: PI
  Amount: $4,800

- "Evaluating the Effectiveness of Deplatforming as a Moderation Strategy"
  Facebook Oversight Board Research Award (2020)
  Role: Research assistant, PI: Amy Bruckman
  Amount: $99,708

- "A Restorative Justice Approach to Online Moderation"
  UC Berkeley Center for Technology, Society & Policy Fellowship (2020)
  Role: Research assistant, PI: Niloufar Salehi
  Amount: $4,000

SELECTED AWARDS AND HONORS

- Test of Time Award, ICWSM (2026)
- Best Paper Award, CSCW (2025)

- Special Recognition for Outstanding Reviews (CHI 2020, CHI 2021, twice for CHI 2026)
- Editor's Pick for Notable Paper, TOCHI (2024)
- Best Faculty Research Award, Library and Information Science, Rutgers University (2024)
- Best Paper Honorable Mention x2 (two independent honorable mentions on different papers), CSCW (2021)
- Best Paper Award, CSCW (2019)
- Best Paper Honorable Mention Award, CSCW (2019)
- Featured in Editor's Spotlight, TOCHI (2018)
- Best Paper Award, ICWSM (2016)

RESEARCH SUPERVISION

Doctoral Students

- Fall 2023 – Now. Nayana Kirasur, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on two projects: "Understanding the Prevalence of Caste: A Critical Discourse Analysis of Caste-based Marginalization on X" and "Understanding the Force of Caste: An Examination of Reddit Discussions Around Inter-caste Relationships."
- Spring 2024 – Now. Sudhamshu Hosamane, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "'I thought it was my mistake, but it's really the design': A Critical Examination of the Accessibility of User-Enacted Moderation Tools on Facebook and X."

- Fall 2024 – Now. Alice Qian Zhang, Human-Computer Interaction Institute, Carnegie Mellon University. Research assistant on project: "Cleaning Up the Streets: Understanding Motivations, Mental Models, and Concerns of Users Flagging Social Media Posts."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2025. Matthew Ackerman, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Applying Psychological Reactance to Design Warning Labels Before Online Communities."
- Fall 2024. Serita Sargent, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Moral Disengagement and Content Moderation Attitudes: Examining How Apathy to Online Harms May Disguise Racially Conservative Beliefs."
- Spring 2023 – Spring 2024. Alyvia Walters, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Online Knowledge Production in Polarized Political Memes: The Case of Critical Race Theory."
- Spring 2021 – Fall 2024. Manoel Horta Ribeiro, School of Computer and Communication Sciences, École Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (EPFL). Research advisee on two projects: "Do Platform Migrations Compromise Content Moderation? Evidence from r/The_Donald and r/Incels" and "Deplatforming Norm-Violating Influencers on Social Media Reduces Overall Online Attention Toward Them."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2023. Kaitlin Montague, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Cleaning Up the Streets: Understanding Motivations, Mental Models, and Concerns of Users Flagging Social Media Posts."
- Spring 2022 – Summer 2022. Nikhila Natarajan, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Personalizing Content Moderation on Social Media: User Perspectives on Moderation Choices, Interface Design, and Labor."
- Fall 2020 – Spring 2023. Sijia Xiao, School of Information, University of California Berkeley. Research advisee on project: "Addressing Interpersonal Harm in Online Gaming Communities: The Opportunities and Challenges for a Restorative Justice Approach."

Masters Students

- Spring 2023. Yuming Zou, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Examining How Users Differentiate Reporting from Blocking."
- Spring 2023. Himanshu Rathi, Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Bystanders of Online Moderation: Examining the Effects of Witnessing Post-Removal Explanations."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2023. Abhinay Mannepalli, Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Deplatforming Norm-Violating Influencers on Social Media Reduces Overall Online Attention Toward Them."
- Spring 2022 – Spring 2023. Abhinay Reddy Vongur, Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Understanding the Dynamics of Inter-community Conflicts."
- Spring 2022. Aditya Jain, Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Examining the User Trajectories on Reddit Following Community Bans."

Undergraduate Students

- Summer 2025 – Fall 2025. Kuminjot Bal, Rutgers Business School, Rutgers University. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: ""We don't have a community in America anymore": Theorizing the Role of Nostalgia in Users' Dissatisfaction with Social Media-Based Political Discourse."
- Fall 2023 – Spring 2024. Charlene Olavides, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: "Examining the Effects of Preceding Access to Violent Online Communities with Information Labels."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2024. Alice Qian Zhang, Department of Computer Science & Engineering, University of Minnesota. Research assistant on project: "Cleaning Up the Streets: Understanding Motivations, Mental Models, and Concerns of Users Flagging Social Media Posts."
- Spring 2023 – Spring 2024. Nayana Sharma, Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University. Research assistant on project: "Examining the Effects of Preceding Access to Violent Online Communities with Information Labels."

- Summer 2023 – Fall 2023. Sandhya Ganesh, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: "Examining the Effects of Preceding Access to Violent Online Communities with Information Labels."
- Fall 2023. Faizah Loskor, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: "Examining Recruitment Strategies of Online White Supremacist Groups."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2023. Vincent Scaglione, Rutgers Business School. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: "Applying Psychological Reactance to Design Warning Labels Before Online Communities."
- Fall 2022 – Spring 2023. Anish Gupta, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Aresty Undergraduate Research Assistant on project: "Bystanders of Online Moderation: Examining the Effects of Witnessing Post-Removal Explanations."

Doctoral Theses Supervised as Primary Advisor

- 2022 – Now. Yunhee Shim, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Dissertation Title: "Governing Through Visibility: How Content Creators Evaluate and Enact Comment Moderation". Passed dissertation defense in Summer 2026; passed proposal in Fall 2025.
- 2025 – Now. Joshua Rochotte, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Co-advising with Charles Senteio.

Membership on Doctoral Theses Committees

Dissertation Committee Member

- Charlotte Lambert, Department of Computer Science, University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. Passed preliminary exam in Fall 2024, passed dissertation defense in Spring 2026.
- Arcadio Matos, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Passed dissertation proposal in Spring 2025.

Qualifying Exam Committee Member

- Eunbin Ha, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Passed qualifying exam in Fall 2024.
- Liyang Xue, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Passed qualifying exam in Spring 2024.
- Arcadio Matos, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Passed qualifying exam in Fall 2023.
- Casey Randazzo, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Passed qualifying exam in Summer 2023.

Postdoctoral Trainees

- Alyvia Walters, School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University. Fall 2024 – Summer 2025. (Employment: Assistant Professor, School of Journalism and Media, University of Kentucky.)

Supervising as a PhD Student at Georgia Tech

- Maya Holikatti - B.S. Computer Science: Learning Mechanisms of Airbnb Hosts
- Christian J Boylston - B.S. Computer Science: Effects of Deplatforming on Twitter
- Josiah Mangiameli - M.S. Human Computer Interaction: User Reactions to Content Removals on Reddit
- Kevin Tang - B.S. Game and Interactive Media Design: Removal Explanations on Reddit
- Iris Birman - B.S. Computer Science: Moderation of Reddit Communities
- Francisco A Zampieri - B.S. Computer Science: Effects of Community Response on User Behavior
- Pranil Vora - B.S. Computer Science: Design Mechanisms of the ChangeMyView Subreddit
- Benjamin Sugar - M.S. Digital Media: Social Media Participation in the Black Lives Matter Movement

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Instructor, Rutgers University

- Ph.D. level
  - Quantitative Research Methods
    - Fall 2025
  - Understanding, Designing, and Building Social Media
    - Spring 2023 (cross-listed with MI)
- Master of Information (MI)
  - Research Methods
    - Spring 2026
  - Understanding, Designing, and Building Social Media
    - Fall 2022, Spring 2023 (cross-listed with Ph.D.), Fall 2024
- Information Technology and Informatics (ITI, undergraduate level)
  - Fundamentals of Data Curation and Management
    - Fall 2021, Spring 2022 (2 sections), Fall 2022, Spring 2023, Fall 2023 (2 sections), Spring 2024 (2 sections), Fall 2024, Fall 2025, Spring 2026, Summer 2026
- Course material developed/revised significantly for:
  - Quantitative Research Methods
  - Fundamentals of Data Curation and Management
  - Understanding, Designing, and Building Social Media

Instructor, University of Washington

- CSE 492: Designing a More Critical CS Education — Winter 2021

Head Teaching Assistant, Georgia Institute of Technology

- CS 4863: Computers, Society, and Professionalism — Fall 2019
  - Assisted Prof. Amy Bruckman with developing this new course.
  - Taught a section of the course.
- CS 3600: Intro. to Artificial Intelligence — Spring 2018
  - Managed and mentored other Teaching Assistants.
  - Facilitated proctoring and grading of exams.

Teaching Assistant, Georgia Institute of Technology

- CS 3600: Intro. to Artificial Intelligence — Summer 2019
- CS 4001: Computing & Society — Fall 2018
- CS 4001: Computing & Society — Fall 2017
- CS 3600: Intro. to Artificial Intelligence — Spring 2017
- CS 4001: Computing & Society — Fall 2016
- CS 3600: Intro. to Artificial Intelligence — Spring 2016

Guest Lecturer

- LIS Faculty Panelist. 16:194:601 – Communication, Information, and Media Pro-seminar (Prof. Jennifer Theiss). School of Communication & Information, Rutgers University [Fall 2026]
- "Designing Fair & Effective Content Moderation." 16:194:678 – Doctoral Seminar in Information Studies: Human-Centered Computing (Prof. Kiran Garimella). School of Communication & Information, Rutgers University [Fall 2026]

- "Content Moderation." CCI 660 – Platform Governance: Technology, Policy & Power (Prof. Martin Riedl). School of Journalism and Media, The University of Tennessee, Knoxville [Fall 2024]
- "Examining the Use of Personal Moderation on Social Media Sites." CS 05-200/674 – Ethics and Policy Issues in Computing (Prof. Sauvik Das). Human-Computer Interaction Institute, Carnegie Mellon University. [Spring 2023]
- "Computational Social Science and Data Science." 16:194:610 – Seminar in Information Studies (Prof. Marie Radford). School of Communication & Information, Rutgers University [Fall 2021]
- "Toward Fairness & Transparency in Content Moderation." SI 529 - Online Communities (Prof. Nazanin Andalibi). School of Information, University of Michigan [Winter 2021]
- "Deviant Behavior." CS 6470 - Design of Online Communities (Prof. Amy Bruckman). School of Interactive Computing, Georgia Tech [Spring 2019]
- "Content Moderation." CS 6470 - Design of Online Communities (Prof. Amy Bruckman). School of Interactive Computing, Georgia Tech [Spring 2019]
- "Online Harassment & Content Moderation." CS 4001 - Computing, Society and Professionalism (Prof. Amy Bruckman). School of Interactive Computing, Georgia Tech [Fall 2018]
- "Academic Urban Legends." CS 4001 - Computing, Society and Professionalism (Prof. Amy Bruckman). School of Interactive Computing, Georgia Tech [Fall 2017]

Math and Physics Tutor

Student Success Center, University of Texas at Dallas Jan - Oct 2013

- Assisted undergraduate and Masters students on various Math and Physics university courses.
- Conducted exam reviews.

SERVICE

Program Committee

- Associate Chair, Understanding People: Qualitative Methods, CHI 2024
- Associate Chair, CSCW 2022

University Service

- Fall 2024 – Spring 2025: Research Development Committee, Department of Library and Information Science, Rutgers University. As part of this four-person Committee, I co-organized the Symposium Examining Critical Sociotechnical Challenges in Information Science at Rutgers SC&I on April 4, 2025. I also moderated a panel discussion on the topic, "Content Moderation in the Age of AI."
- Fall 2023 – Spring 2025: Research Development Committee, School of Communication & Information, Rutgers University. Dean's appointment.
- Fall 2023: Faculty Hiring Search Committee, Department of Library and Information Science, Rutgers University. Reviewed faculty applications for the Human-Computer Interaction track.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE PRIOR TO RUTGERS

Research Assistant

- School of Interactive Computing, Georgia Institute of Technology 2015 – 2020
  I used computational techniques, surveys, interviews and participant observations to understand how content moderation occurs on social media websites and how users perceive and react to different moderation mechanisms.

- Department of Computer Science, University of Texas at Dallas 2013 – 2014
  I developed a framework to perform setwise classification on streaming data that addressed the challenges of concept drift, concept evolution, and storage limitations. I used this framework to conduct real-time sentiment analyses of Twitter posts.

Research Internships

- Max Planck Institute for Software Systems, Saarbrücken, Germany June 2020 – Aug 2020
  With Krishna Gummadi - Networked Systems Research Group (Conducted remotely)
  Examined the moderation mechanisms of Facebook ads and evaluated moderator communications on Reddit.

- Microsoft Research, Seattle, WA USA May 2018 – Aug 2018
  With Scott Counts and Justin Cranshaw - Social Computing Group
  Studied the role of self-directed skill development on economic growth across all US cities using large-scale search query data.

- Airbnb, Inc., San Francisco, CA USA May 2017 – Aug 2017
  With Judd Antin - Homes 2.0 Team
  Investigated the impact of algorithmic evaluation on users and their work practices in the context of sharing economy platforms.

- Brown University, Providence, RI USA May 2013 – June 2013
  Data Management Research Group
  Helped build a new system for big data analytics and performed in-memory computations on large clusters in a fault-tolerant manner.
- INRIA Research Centre, Paris-Rocquencourt, France May 2009 – July 2009
  Contraintes Research team
  Developed mathematical models to analyze biomolecular networks using MATLAB.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Software Developer

- Amazon.com, Inc., Seattle, WA USA Mar 2015 – July 2015
  Vendor Express Team.
  Developed support for mobile users on the Vendor Express platform, created internal tools for faster support case management, and implemented Vendor Express for Germany and Japan.
- Future Group, Mumbai, India Jan 2011 – Jun 2012
  Head of the Analytics and Business Intelligence Team.
  Conceptualized and implemented Order Life-cycle Management, a system to process and manage orders. Developed a website for sellers to track orders, sales summaries, and product reviews.
